What Is Happening

hackUCI is a 36 hour student hackathon to be hosted annually by UC Irvine during Memorial Day weekend on May 23rd - May 25th. The event will draw students from all over the West Coast to design and build the next greatest tech products in web, mobile, or hardware.

Who Will Attend

We're expecting over 750 students from across the West Coast to participate in this event. These include undergraduates from UCLA, USC, Caltech, UC San Diego and other universities in California.

Why You Benefit

1. Gain access to the future workforce, observing and shaping the next generation of technologists by sending evangelists and getting them involved with interactive demos.
2. Expand brand awareness and further expose your products through booths, swag, and other hacker-loved goodies.
3. Be part of the hacker movement as it spreads through the SoCal collegiate culture.

Your support will make hackUCI an incredible event, enabling a great learning experience for all. The committee of hackUCI eagerly looks forward to having your company take part in shaping the future of technology. Thank you very much!
